Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from The Battle of Syracuse: Two Essays Mr. Abbot says that the first point to be determined is the true definition of Christianity. He does not complete his sentence; but we may assume that he means that this is the first point to be determined in order to decide whether or not we shall take sides with Christianity or against it. If this is his meaning, we think that he lays altogether too much stress on the value of a definition. There are many things which we know perfectly well, which we find it hard to define. It is difficult to define the feudal system, but we know very well what it was. We also can determine, without much difficulty, whether the influence of the feudal system was, on the whole, good or evil. If we were called upon to decide whether we approved the feudal system, whether we would support it or oppose it, the main point to be settled would not be to find a satisfactory definition. That would do very well for an abstract student; but in order to answer the practical question, Shall we support the feudal system, or oppose it? the first thing to be determined is this, Is this method of organizing society a good one? In like manner we may say that whether we can define Christianity or not, we know very well what it is. A good definition may be a very good thing for speculative purposes; but the practical question in regard to Christianity is whether, on the whole, it is useful to society, or pernicious. If we believe that the influence of the churches, Catholic and...
