Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Architectural Record, Vol. 32 Tin-tuis rs crrv in the United States which arouses so much enthusiasm and devotion among its citizens as does the city of Seattle. All the rapidly growing cities of the West arouse the same kind of pride and interest. But Seattle is more enthusiastic. Because in the opinion of its citizens it has so much more to be enthusiastic about. It is proud of its phenomenally rapid growth of the varied sources. Of its economic prosper ity of its superb location of its private and public works and of its very ?atter ing prospects. Its enthusiasm partakes almost of the character of a religion. Sev eral thousand of its leading citizens found nothing undignified or absurd in assembling in solemn conclave and burn ing an effiigy of that most detestable of all traitors. The man who criticizes his own city. The knocker is anathema tized as heartily in Seattle as was the heretic in Mediaeval Spain.
